ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. UNIONTOWN, March 21 .- Fayette county is awaiting in terror the next move of the band of outlaws who have for a year preyed upon her rural population with impunity, and the timidity of the officers in not attempting an arrest can only add to the boldness and the cruelty of the gang.

Their camp at Markleysburg has not yet been disturbed, and hey are safe from fear. Bill Hill, in whose mountain home they are entrenched, is a relative of Sullivan, one of the gang. Hill and his wife were away when the outlaws took possession, and they have been cooking for themselves, and living on the daintiest the country will atford, none having the hardihood to refuse rifles and revolvers, and they do not leave the house without their arms. Their hiding place is in a lonely spot in the mountains, the house standing back in a deep gully, approachable but from one direction, and anyone approaching the house must be exposed to the gaze and aim of its in-

The little boy whom they have secured to get provisions for them declares that there is no wounded man in the house. Lewis and Sullivan are old penitentiary birds, having served eight years each for robbing Superintendent Paisley in 1861 of $5,000, as he was driving through a gully on the road from here to the Stewart Coke Works with money for paying off the hands, which money they secreted before they were captured and upon their return from prison divided and spent.

The other two of the six who were recognized, Ramsey and Tasker, are both hard customers, and anyone attempting to arrest such a crowd, with the assurance the long respite they have had has given them, will surely have a difficult and dangerous task. livan are old penitentiary birds, having served

A REWARD NEEDED.

The gang are said to be constantly on the lookout for surprises, day and night. They need have no fears, however, as no attempt will be made to capture them unless the reward is greatly increased. The indignation of the taxpayers is divided between the daring band for its cruelty, and the County Commissioners for their refusal to offer any reward until the gang had gotten safely away, and then offering $200 for their capture. People living within a radius of 15 miles from the gang's headquarters are preparing a plan of alarming the neighbors in case of an attack, reasoning that the band has now grown so bold that they will resume their operations shortly, and the alarm continues to increase through-

BABY'S NARROW ESCAPE.

A Father Rescues His Child From the Fierce Flames.

BURGETTSTOWN, March 2L-The house of Frank Ferguson, near Florence, four miles north of here, was burned to the ground this morning, together with all the household effects. Mr. Ferguson awoke about 5 o'clock and discovered the room in which he and his wife and child were sleeping to be filled with smoke. He immediately awakened his wife, and, after hurriedly dressing, they made their way out of the burning building. Not until they had reached the outside did they think of the child, which had been left in the house, and Mr. Forguson hurried back to rescue it. As he neared the room wherein the baby lay he found the partitions had burned away and the roof was falling in. He fought his way to the cradle and snatched the child from its bed, and, nearly suffocated with fire and smoke, he reached the outside. The little one was un-harmed. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A NEW COKE PLANT. The Extensive Land Purchase Made in

works in Dunbar township, this county, underlaid with coking coal, containing 260 acres, at $450 per acre, or $117,000. This property adjoins the Hair farm, on which Mr. Rainey has made.

The coal is now used through a slope, but the purpose is to sink a shaft and operate the whole body of coal through the one opening. The plant will be greatly increased upon a resumption of activity in the coke business.

POLICY PLAYED OUT.

The Sudden Stopping of the Festive Gam-

at Wheeling. WHEELING, March 21.-For four months Wheeling has been crazy on the subject of policy, and numbers were being written in a half a dozen localities, while almost every saloon had facilities for accommodating the disciples of the 4-11-44 game of chance. The male population, from newsboys to business men, were blowing their silver in against the game, and a score or so of gamblers who were at the head of the thing were rapidly getting rich.

This evening Chief of Police Delbrugge is sued orders to put a summary stop to the whole arrangement, and to-night the sound of the wheel is no longer to be heard.

TRAIN WRECKERS AT WORK.

A Dinbelical Attempt Discovered in the Nick of Time. NEWARK, March 21.-A diabolical attempt to wreck a train on the Lake Eric division of the Baltimore and Ohio road yesterday, by placing a tie across the track, so as to derail passenger train No. 47, was discovered in time to avert the accident, and removed, by Mr. George Fickler. The miscreants are un-known.

Prohibitionists Organize in Payette. Uniontown, March 21 .- The delegates to the County Convention to organize Fayette county for the fight on the prohibitory amendment assembled in the Grand Opera House this morning. Most of the townships were represented, the complexion of the delegation being about equally divided between Repub-licans and Democrats.

A Stolen Mail Bug Found. PIEDMONT, W. VA., March 21 .- A United States mail bag, stolen from the Baltimore and Ohio depot on February 29, was found to-day about one-half mile from town under a culvert. It was not known to be lost, as the postal agent did not report it missing. The bag was torn open and all the valuables found to have been taken out.

An Innocent Engineer. MAUCH CHUNK, March 21.-The jury in Engineer Major's trial, the last of the Lehigh Valley Railroad employes, indicted for having caused the Mud Run disaster, this afternoon rendered a verdict of not guity. The verdict was received with vociferous applause. He Was Coupling Cars. New Castle, March 21.-Nathan Weir, a brakeman in the Lawrence Junction yards, on the Eric and Pittsburg road, two miles south of here, while coupling cars this morning, was run over and killed. He leaves a wife and one WOOSTER, O., March 21 .- Some days ago Miss Kieflen, of Smithville, this county, had one of her fingers bitten by a hog. The injury refused to heal, and has resulted in blood poisoning, which will necessitate the amputation of a por-tion of the young lady's hand.

The Successful Surgical Operation Per-The Successful Surgical Operation Performed at Wooster.

Wooster, March 21.—Last December Arthur Tawney, a school teacher of Reedsburg, this county, was playfully pushed off the school steps by one of his pupils. In falling Tawney struck a step, and his spinal column was fractured at the base. He suffered great pain, and during the past three months resorted to large doses of morphine for relief. His left leg became partially paralyzed, and his recovery was doubtful.

As a last resort an operation was decided apon, and to-day the four lower segments, or coccyx, of his spinal column, where the fracture was located, were taken out. The bones were found to be decaying. The operation, although a dangerous one, and very rarely performed, was successful, and the patient is recovering and is free from pain.

A QUESTION FOR LAWYERS. The Knotty Point to be Decided by the Bedford Court. BEDFORD, March 21.-William Hartley, of this place, has brought suit against John and E. H. Anderson, former owners of the famous Bedford Mineral Springs, to recover $5,000, which he alleges was to be paid for making sale which he alleges was to be paid for making sale of the properties for the sum of $250,000. The contract was the sale was to be made on or before August 15, 1887. Mr. Hartley succeeded in finding a purchaser at the figures named, but Messrs. Andersons refused to allow the personal properties to be included, consequently the sale was off.

Soon afterward, the present owners, a syndicate from Pittsburg, bought the springs and included the personal property. This, Mr. Hartley claims, was an injustice, and brings suit to recover the amount of the original contract. The best of legal talent will be retained be Paid. Allegheny Common Council held a special meeting last evening, the object being to approve the appropriation ordinance and transact other business. Many of the city employes have been without money for some time, because they could not draw their pay until the measure passed. There was great difficulty in securing a quorum, and the meeting was not called to order until nearly o'clock, when 30 members answered to rol call, 20 being absent.

The Allegheny Appropriation Ordinance is Passed and the City Employes Will All

Several ordinances appointing viewers on the change of grades of a number of thoroughfares were approved. utions were adopted awarding the con-

Resolutions were adopted awarding the contract for supplying water pipe and special castings for the water department to the National Foundry and Pipe Works, iron stop gates to the Union Foundry and Machine Works, 43 fire plugs to Nuttail Brothers, brass ferrules to Bailey, Farrell & Co., it to nos of pig lead to Bailey, Farrell & Co., missellaneous castings to the Union Foundry and Machine Company, wooden boxes to Samuel Hastings, and the hauling for the department to William H. Megraw.

The resolution authorizing the construction of boardwalks in the city was passed as it had been amended. The words "in the rural districts" had been struck out and the words added "when within the appropriation of the Committee on Roads." Messrs. Betteridge, Ingham, Patterson, Staving and Watson voted against the resolution.

The report of the Water Committee on the bids of the Allegheny Heating Company and Charles Jutte & Co. for supplying respectively gas and coal for the pumping stations was received and filed, and the action of Select Council concurred in as to sending the resolution presented back to the committee.

Chairman Hunter presided, and smiled several times during the evening when reference was made to the charge that he was furnished with natural gas free of charge. He stated at the close of the meeting that he paid his gas bills and the report was only a scheme on the part of the friends of his opponent for the chairmanship to defeat him, but this is impossible as he has pledges from enough members to elect him.

A STRING OF WHITE HORSES.

An Old Legend Revived by a Funny Advertisement-Trouble for the Mule. The golden haired beauties of this city. to whom life has not been the burden it was prior to the death of the white-horse chestnut, had now better emigrate to some foreign clime. For the next week a string of white nut, had now better emigrate to some foreign clime. For the next week a string of white horses will be paraded through the streets, and the paragrapher of the city press will be enabled to hatch out a spock of new jokes.
Yesterday Manager T. H. Davis, of the "Stoway" Company, which will appear at the Bijou next week, advertised for 500 white horses. Simultaneously with the appearance of the spotless flecked steeds there gathered at the stage entrance quite a number of redheaded girls. Whether they came with the horses or not nobody knows, but Manager Davis wanted to hire them to ride the horses through the streets. At last accounts they are still figuring on his magnificent offer.

Among the equines that were gathered yesterday was one old mule that had been white some time before the war. Like Jimmy Sully's famous charger, "he was a good mod, but, my! she was slow." His tail was gone, and, metaphorically speaking, the gentle zephyr that blew up Cecil alley from the river caressed the substance on his chin. He came from the Southside, and one leg was shorter than the others. Mr. Davis promised the old darkey that owned him that if he whitewashed the mule with some of Barnum's white elephant wash he would buy the whole outfit.

The horses will be paraded through the streets next week with advertisements stenciled on their sides. The ink to be used is indellible, and will not come off.

Choking Catarrh.

Have you awakened from a disturbed sleep with all the horrible sensations of an assassin clutching your throat and pressing the life-breath from your tightened chest? Have you noticed the languor and debility that succeed the effort to clear your throat and head of this catarrhal matter? What a depresing influence it exerts upon the mind, clouding the memory and filling the head with pains and strange noises! How difficult it is to rid the masal passages, throat and lungs of this poisonous mucus all can testify who are afflicted with catarrh. How difficult to protect the system against its further progress towards the lungs, liver and kidneys all physicians will admit. It is a terrible disease and cries out for renief and cure.
